CULTIVATING THE MAKER MINDSET

Take writing out of your imagination and into your hands with this writing-making-storytelling mashup! Write, Make, Tell-a-Tale Camp is designed for kids who like to write AND create. While we explore the how and why of the Pourquoi tale, we will be investigating storytelling methods/devices, writing our own stories, and creating outlandish ways to tell our tales through puppetry, story-boxing, and claymation.

Write, Make, Tell-a-Tale activities and experiences will include:

- writing with a local children's book author
- outdoor exploration of flora & fauna
- acting techniques for storytelling
- storytelling with a professional storyteller
- making with a professional puppeteer
- a family exhibition to share our tales
